MR. ROOSEVELT'S REPLY. sident Reosevelt, of the Police Board, adaresed a crowded meeting of the Social Reform Clab, at No. 28 East Fourth-st., last night. He was introduced by E. D. Page, the vice-president of the organization, who presided, as "the gladiator of right to the title. The address was confined to deental topics, but it was not dull, for it was son seen that Mr. Roosevelt's hearers were not thing done by the Department as a whole.

Mr. Rossevelt said that without a change in law Toughs did not exist now as they the crime of arson had increased, he paself believed that by degrees "we shall be able are and more to shackle cunning, as we have appointed to the police force by the present ad-ministration. "There wasn't a case of clubbing by the police at the big political meetings in Madion Square Garden!" he exclaimed.

of Square pardon," interrupted Dr. Andrews, the end of the room, "I was at one of the Madison Square meetings and I was poked in the ribs by one of your policemen when I was trying to get in, although I had a ticket."

Mr. Roosevelt smiled at the interruption, and said that after the meeting an investigation was held of the conduct of the police. 'I came to the conclusion," he continued, "that the police had displayed the greniest forbearance and saved the lives of hundreds of people. If you had not been kept back you would have not been here to raise bijections. Dr. Andrews merely smiled, and Mr. Roosevelt rent on with his speech. He was saying that the Board treated all creeds and classes alike when Moses Oppenheimer, who is a member of the club, arose and made a scathing attack on Mr. Roosevelt and the Police Board. He began by recalling the time when "the two talking Commissioners were in the habit of visiting churches and friendly political clubs, telling everybody how painstaking and good and virtuous they were." The audience laughed heartily at this picture, which the speaker called "a honeymoon of official bliss."

"Like clergymen, however," Mr. Oppenhelmer

continued, 'Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Parker spoke from pulpits, and would have no back talk. Tonight is the first opportunity for frank public critiism. Public officials must not be judged by their declarations and protestations, but by the results of their work. We all know about the great antisaloon crusade, the Haroun-Al-Raschid midnight ramples, the sensational handshakes. In those ry and bustling days Mr. Roosevelt was in the habit of brushing aside every criticism with the sation that the critics were criminals or the criminals. TESTIMONY REPORT THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION. The Interstate Commerce Commission rhe interests, the Board room of the Produce Ex-change to investigate the charges preferred against forty-four railroads forming the Joint Traffic Association. The complaint is that these roads main-tain from Western points to the Atlantic seaboard certain differences in freight rates called differentinis, which are entirely arbitrary, and which militate, it is said, against the port of New-York in favor of Philadelphia, Boston and Baltimore. The Produce Exchange asked for an investigation by the Commission and for its assistance in establish-

He said that since the autumn of when the Joint Truthe Association was formed, the differential rates had been more firmly mainlailed than ever. The witness said that the freight charges paid the railroads included the putting of the grain into an elevator in this city. He said he had chartered vessels here in New-York and sent them to Philadelphia to load, as it was cheaper to get the grain to the latter city. Mr. Mitchell gave a number of deather. number of details as to how grain is shipped, and aid that the charge for putting it into an elevator was one-fourth of one per cent. Attorney-General McKenna gave his views on the subject of permitting alleged fillbustering steamers to clear for Cuban ports with cargoes of arms and munitions of war. A general discuseral has decided no; to render an opinion in the case of the steamer Dauntless until he can obtain additional facts relating to the application of her owners to clear from Jacksonville with arms and ammunition. Under ordinary commercial conditions the application would be granted without question. but the fact that the Dauntless or any other vessel would be obliged to clear for some Cuban port held by the Spanish puts a new phase on port heid by the Spanish puts a new phase on the matter. The cargo could not be landed there, and the vessel would be selzed. This would make it necessary for a vessel to attempt to land the cargo at some point along the coast, and in order to deliver the arms and ammunition to the insurgents an armed force would be necessary. The knowledge of this raises the question whether the men necessary to carry out the plans made for a filloustering vessel would not constitute an armed expedition, a would not constitute an armed expedition, a clear violation of law. In short, Mr. Albany, March 16 (Special).—The Assembly to-day advanced to third reading Senator Wieman's bill to doesn't quit work at 6 o'clock and with which irroy has been for some years the buzz-saw that is unwise to "monkey."

Consequently the announcement that Mr. Purre was to tackle the Muse of Poetry, under the guise of a lecture last evening in Lyric Hall on "Some Gems of Poetry and Thoughts which They Inspire," brought out a good audience to see the struggle General Martin T. McMahon acted as master of ceremonies and Cornelius Van Cott and Senator Guy refereed the match.

Mr. Purroy led with his left without hesitation Mr. Smith's, authorizing the issue of $75,000 in honds by the town of New-Rochelle for improving and widening highways.

Mr. Alds's, providing that the trustees of a school district shall not employ a teacher for longer than one year at a time and teachers shall not be dismissed within that time except for cause.

In the third round Mr. Purroy came up strong and clinched savagely with Scotch dialect poetry amid a chorus of cheers outside the ring, and as the round closed it was evident that Mr. Purroy's victory was only a question of time. Old-timers waxed enthusiastic and prophesied that another waxed enthusiastic and prophesied that another round would do it. And so it proved.

There was blood in Mr. Purroy's eye as he came up fresh for the fourth and last round. The Muse was game, but groggy. "Erin Go Bragh" was the cry of the victor as he rushed at his opponent, and the mix-up that followed was a flerce one. It ended with Poetry prone upon the ropes, and amid a burst of cheers the Muse was counted out.

But Mr. Purroy was as magnantmous in victory as he was savage in conflict. Before receiving the congratulations of the multitude he said some kind things about his failen antagonist. He admitted that he had many friends, that he had sounded the achievements of many heroes with his "far-reaching trumpet of fame," and that he had cheered many an exile banished from home by "crool fate." This generous acknowledgment of the conqueror elicited great enthusiasm on the part of the multitude. The gate receipts will go to the Parnell Memorial in this diagram a continuous white line shows the changes in pressure as indicated by The Tribune's self-recording barometer. The dotted line represents the tem-perature as recorded at Perry's Pharmacy. Telbune Office, March 17, I a. m .- The weather yester day was fair and cold. The temperature ranged between 23 and 25 degrees, the average (25), degrees being 55, legroes lower than that of Monday and 2% lower than that of the corresponding day of last year.

The weather to-day will be fair and warmer, but it will grow cloudy to night.

TIPS IGNOBLE DEATH.

HAVING REFUSED POISON, HE WAS WORKED OFF WITH BLOCK AND TACKLE.

phant at the Barnum & Bailey winter quarters, to poison whom an unsuccessful attempt was made yesterday, was executed in the elephant's barn this morning. He weighed 8,500 pounds, and stood 10 feet 6 inches in height. He had been with the circus since 1877, but had become ugly of late, and his keepers were afraid he would kill them. Late yesterday afternoon a block and falls were fixed to the rafters of the barn, and a heavy rope and sixty men did the rest. Tip's neck was broken. He was defiant to the last.

The paroxysms of Whooping Cough are at once relieved by Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant, and if this medicine is continued, it almost invariably effects
